Ecologically important natural areas and places of local and scenic value continue to diminish in our region. Saving what's left can be challenging due to economic and development pressures.

Thanks to the generosity of our donors and funders, Southeast Michigan Land Conservancy has been able to protect nearly 3,500 acres during the past 36 years. This is especially notable due to our heavily urbanized region.

Together, we have protected forests, wetlands and prairies, forever. Your sponsorship will help SMLC as we continue our work to conserve these special places.
